

If broadcasters feel threatened by the advancement of satellite radio, they should improve their product to reclaim market-share, using tried and true capitalism. Not legislative communist strong arm tactics.